The highlight of each Legacy scholarship dinner is the keynote address, delivered by an individual who embraces the opportunity to uplift and empower our audience. This individual exemplifies the result of hard work and ambition, and has the ability to communicate, with conviction, the principles and overwhelming need of educational opportunities and resources for disadvantaged minority youth. This year, we are seeking to welcome Mr. Kwame Jackson as our keynote speaker - the polished, confident and credentialed professional recently seen on Donald Trump's reality television show "The Apprentice". Mr. Jackson exemplifies the fruition of the American Dream and represents an inspirational target for all those following his example. The Men of Legacy view Mr. Jackson as a pioneer in global business and a sterling icon of hope and leadership in the African-American community who has the aptitude and experience to convey this very important message to our Detroit constituents.

With our request to your institution, please note that the proceeds from this event provide scholarships & fund various educational programs for youth in the metropolitan Detroit area.
